

CRERAR MAKES AN IMPRESSION IN HIS SPEECH ON THE BUDGET

Leader of Farmers' Party Shows Vast Improvement in Latest Effort.

Ottawa, Ont., May 18.—Mr. T. A. Crerar spoke on the budget, Tuesday. Mr. King is expected to speak today; some one on the government side will reply to Mr. King, and thereafter there will be no more interest in the debate until the vote is taken, which will probably be Thursday morning in the small hours, the favorite time for taking votes.

The general opinion of Mr. Crerar's speech is that it was the best effort he has made. He put more energy and aggressiveness in his delivery than usual, had more confidence and created much enthusiasm among both parties on his side of the house. He reiterated the ideal of a preference for Great Britain, but said nothing at all about free trade. In reply to the criticism of Mr. Neighen of the Farmer party in not having moved their platform, he reminded the house that in the moving of amendments the Liberal opposition had the preference and that on a former occasion when agrarians had attempted to bring in an amendment of its own, it had been ruled out.

CRITICIZES MEIGHEN'S SPEECH
Apparently Mr. Crerar does not like the classification which the premier has made of his party—"those angularly opposite." He denominated the budget speech of the premier as "an exhibition of cheap political vaudeville"—unusual acerbity for the smiling leader of the Farmers' party. Usually Mr. Crerar does not attempt to assume the offensive in his remarks, contenting himself with an elaboration of economic theories which, it must be said, he is not always quite at home. Tuesday he left George Mill, Ricardo, and the other early fathers of economics severely alone, and his speech was all the better for it. He also gently asserted his independence of the Liberals by pointing out that the Farmers had stood for their principles against all parties in different federal contests during the past few years, instancing Assiniboia, East and West, and Pethorino; and the same might be said for their record and votes in the house.

TARIFF STAND STILL, CLOUDY
Mr. Crerar, however, failed to make any clear-cut declaration of his stand on the tariff, such as the premier had invited him to do; and his speech was marked by three glaring faults. It might be said of it that he invoked prejudices which are always better left out of political discussions. In referring to the York-Sunbury contest, he said that the government candidate had declared that he did not desire Catholic support, a statement which was immediately "called" by Premier Meighen, and of which Mr. Crerar was not prepared to address proof. He then proceeded to address the Catholic minister of public works in the New Brunswick government which had been approached to enter the Meighen government, which was also promptly denied and the denial accepted. Finally, he appealed, somewhat briefly but plainly, to the prejudices of Quebec.

BEST PART OF SPEECH
Probably the best part of his speech, from the standpoint of his party, was the comparison he made between the exports based on natural products on which there is no protection and protected manufactures. He claimed that of the total exports of $1,190,000,000 from Canada last year, $945,600,000 were based on the natural products of the country, including the farm, forests, mines and fisheries, and that it was "the height of economic folly" for Canada to place high duties on industries not based on the natural resources of the country. Finally, he urged economy. He failed to find the surplus which the minister of finance had declared, claiming it was produced by charging to capital what should have been charged to income, and predicted that, unless expenditures were rigidly curtailed, the decreasing revenues already indicated by the April customs returns would leave a heavy deficit. Following the line of Mr. Davis, the member for Neepawa, he urged the government to make provision for refunding loans amounting to over half a billion within the next four years.

ACCUSED OF ENCOURAGING RACE SUICIDE

An insurance company which announced a schedule of "marriage risks" may be suppressed by the French government on the ground that it encourages race suicides. The company offered to insure any young girl from the age of 16 up, for a few sons a day "against marriage." If the girl found a husband when she reached 35 years of age the company agreed to pay her a monthly income to take the place of the earnings powers of a husband. Another plan insured young brides against desertion by their husbands. Government investigators pronounced against the plan, because they said many girls would be lured to take the contract in come at the age of 35 rather than run the uncertain risks of marriage.

"He hadn't the face to kiss me," "I suppose you hadn't the cheek to accept him."

TAMING HIM EARLY.

When the King Alexander of the Greek Line looked at New York, May 4, with 3,141 passengers from Athens, among the passengers were 400 "picture brides"—girls who have come to America to marry men who know them only by their picture. One of these brides was an Armenian, Marie Zagorian. Her fiancé, who has recognized her after a voyage around the ship in a "bumbat," sent her carnations when she let down a cord to him. She returned the compliment by tossing him a bottle of cognac, but it bounced off his head and plunged into the deep. He was too dizzy to dive for it.

IMAGINATION AND SYMPATHY

Let me give you a rule in life for awakening your love and sympathy: First put yourself in the other person's place, then try to help him. You are compelled to associate with some persons who always seem to do every little thing in such a way as to make themselves unendurable. Now just imagine that they are the people whose wrongs you own, give full credence to their virtues, and then try to help them. It may be that they have some anguish of soul, or some hidden disappointment, which, did you but know, would melt your heart with pity for them. If their surroundings were yours, it may be that you, too, would be far less endurable than you are.

CAMPAIGN OPENS IN FEDERAL SEAT OF MEDICINE HAT

Gov't. Supporters Confident That Col. Spencer Will Carry Riding.

Medicine Hat, Alta., May 18.—Tuesday night the Liberal and Conservative Association of the Medicine Hat constituency entered enthusiastically on the bye-election campaign. Two hundred members attended the gathering suggested that from now until polling closes on June 27, the fight will be vigorously conducted. Every branch of industry was represented in the gathering last evening, and after the organization work had been completed in three hours hard attention to detail, half a dozen speakers voiced the fighting sentiment of the government forces. President Blackstock, of the association acted as chairman. He explained that every committee had been organized and thanked the members who volunteered so readily. The registration arrangements were given first attention, and for every poll energetic electors were named and accepted the responsibility. They were all on the job and expressed determination to see that every man and woman entitled to vote gets on the list before registration is closed.

ARB ENTHUSIASTIC
Old campaigners present commented on the enthusiasm displayed, and said they had seen nothing like it for years, not even in 1917. Speakers freely predicted that the ten to one vote of that union contest would be duplicated June 27. Colonel Spencer, C. A. Pratt, E. L. Stone, of Redcliff; Dr. W. H. MacDonald, J. D. Wilson, Dr. Smythe, R. J. Hills and other citizens delivered short and enthusiastic addresses, all breathing the fighting spirit. The expression generally was that this is not a fight for Col. Spencer, not a fight for Medicine Hat city, not a fight for the constituency, but really and truly a fight for the Dominion of Canada.

AN EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN
With a good candidate and a good cause, it was merely a question of majorities, with every man doing his best. The opinion was freely expressed that the best man for the party had been chosen in Col. Spencer. Speakers mentioned that it must be a campaign of education for the farmers, who have, they thought, for the past few years been receiving most of their inspiration wholly from one source, their agrarian organization. The different speakers gave instances showing that the farmers are by no means a unit in supporting the Grain Growers' candidate, because of the economic up cry of those agrarians in control of the organization in Alberta. Arrangements were definitely completed to send volunteer speakers to all parts of the constituency at once, and keep them there until June 27. In this connection, it is pointed out that the farmers have 180 locals in this riding, which about corresponds to the number of polls. They have a formidable organization, and are working night and day. It is this propaganda that the Liberal and Conservative association must combat.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN
A plan has been worked out to have speakers regularly visit the public market from day to day and address farmers who may have there from time to time. A publicity committee was appointed and plans matured for getting literature out all over the riding at the earliest possible moment. After the bye-elections in Eastern Canada are over, there will be a few speakers of national repute brought into the constituency, but the government supporters are determined to make this fight largely a home contest, with their own people talking to the electors.

A school of instruction is being hurriedly arranged for the younger speakers, and automobile owners have volunteered their machines for the use of these speakers.

THE WORK OF THE CANADIAN RED CROSS

There is no organization in the British Empire that is deserving of more support than the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Every citizen of Red Deer should be at the meeting in the city hall on Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, to hear the address of Mrs. Mary E. Waagen, Hon. Provincial Secretary of the organization, on "Peace Time Work." A Red Cross worker in one of the primitive sections of the west made a discovery last summer. She visited a sawmill camp and, while there, discovered two men, one of whom had chopped half his foot off with his axe and was unable to get any treatment for it. The other had suffered a laceration in the chin from a mule and the jaw bone was broken. He was unable to get the bone set. Both travelled 30 miles to a place where they hoped to find a doctor and they travelled in vain. When they arrived there they were all in. They were put to bed and remained there until, as in the case of the animals, their hurts healed and they were able to go back to their work. The net result of their failure to receive attention at the proper time, or indeed at any time, is that one will limp badly for life and the other will have a terribly disfigured face.

The Red Cross, organized for peace, will, by its guidance and expert advice, make it possible for all such far away communities to have something like adequate medical and nursing attention by equipping hospitals and nurses' quarters and providing suitable surgical and medical supplies for the treatment of all such and similar cases, whether of accident, disease or what not.

Not only that, but the Red Cross aims to give lessons in first aid to the sick and injured and to teach people who, by reason of the nature of their occupations, must live far from medical and nursing aid, just what they should do to aid sufferers who come within the zone of their influence.

The Red Cross, it is realized, is needed more now than at any other time in the history of the country and it is earnestly hoped by those who are endeavoring to organize the humanitarian forces of the world that Western Canadians to the very last man and woman, boy or girl, will join the Red Cross when the campaign is on from June 5 to 11.

Canada expects to enroll every loyal man and woman in the Red Cross next June; to accomplish it by a wide spread simultaneous canvass of every district, hamlet and city block. It asks the citizens to become members of the Society, to inscribe their names on its roll, and to pay an annual fee of $1.00—the fund which is to maintain and carry on the work of the Red Cross from year to year.

But be sure to hear Mrs. Waagen Thursday night, as we feel sure Red Deer will not be behind the rest of the province in the good work when all the facts are made known.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

A meeting of railroad workers of the Twin Cities will be called within the next few days to discuss the wage question.

The annual convention of the Canadian Postmasters' association opened at Ottawa on Thursday.

The bill to establish a national research institute was given a second reading in the senate on Wednesday.

Marshal Foch, the generalissimo of the allied armies during the war, has accepted the title of honorary colonel of the 22nd regiment of the Quebec militia.

The one-man car will be placed in operation by the New Brunswick street railways, commencing next month.

WHEN NAPOLEON SLEPT IN

At the examination in history under the Stirlingshire Education Authority some fine "lowers" were perpetrated, as the following will show:—
Magna Charta was a French peasant girl.
Sheriffmuir was a very good man in some of his ways. He was one whom Charles II. d.
Waterloo was fought and won by Nelson.
The Pilgrim Fathers sailed to America. They were soon very glad, because they could preach, to their hearts "contempt."

Killisnoe was fought on the banks of the Boyne.
The causes of the Indian Mutiny were that some of soldiers refused to eat greased cartridges.
At the Siege of Lucknow a young girl, named Jessie, put her ear to the ground, and said, "Dinna ye hear it? The canals are coming!"
Quebec was won by General Wolfe. He was a very skilful soldier, but a very poor clergyman.
At Waterloo the British General rose early in the morning, but Napoleon slept in, so was defeated.

TROTZKY DYING OF CANCER

LAST RUSSIAN STORY
But Report is Not Confirmed and Does Not Correspond With Other Russian News.

Riga, May 19.—Information has reached Riga tending to confirm the report that Leon Trotzky, the Russian Bolshevik minister, is seriously ill. He is said to be in a sanatorium near Moscow suffering from cancer. Some mystery, however, surrounds the case, as recently Moscow reports were circulated to the effect that he and Ensign Kolyenkov, former Bolshevik commander-in-chief of the Russian army, had gone to their Afghanistan frontier.
No mention of Trotzky's illness is made in any of the Moscow papers, the information concerning him reaching outside points only through travelers from Russia. Some of these travelers being Communist leaders, they are in a position to know. According to one of them, the collapse of Trotzky's health, added to the physical breakdown of several other Bolshevik leaders, is increasing the difficulties in which the premier, Lunine, finds himself, trying to stave off the fall of his regime, which is faced by extraordinary disorganization of transport and fuel.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

During a court case a solicitor was examining a witness, and happened to ask him about the character of a deceased man who was mentioned.

To the amazement of the court the witness replied: "He was a man with out blame, beloved and respected by all, pure in thoughts, and—"

"How did you learn that?" demanded the judge in surprise.
"I read it on his tombstone, your honour," was the disconcerting reply.

Standard-New Idea Designer Patterns and Belrobe Method

OF DRESSMAKING

A picture story simpler than words, with every Standard-New Idea and Designer Pattern.

Nearly all women would love to make their own clothes or clothes for the kiddies—if they were not afraid of partial failure in result. The Belrobe method makes the wholly inexperienced women successful and proud of her work, and even for the experienced this picture guide means a saving of time and material.

The Belrobe Method shows you exactly how to lay each piece of your particular pattern on the particular width of suitable material which you wish to purchase.

The Belrobe Method shows you how to save material for your particular dress—it tells you exactly how much you need, for your particular size, with no waste. This is possible because the Belrobe Method next shows you how to lay the pattern on the cloth for cutting so as to use every possible scrap of goods, picture-diagrams, planned by professional draftsmen, show just how to lay out and cut—whatever your size, whatever the suitable width of your goods. This is sure to save you from one-eighth of a yard up to, in some cases, a whole yard. Come in and let us explain to you this wonderful new system.

THE NEMESIS OF PRETENCE

The London Spectator

The condition of murderous anarchy into which the South and West of Ireland have fallen is disgraceful to the British nation. No matter what is said; and what is more, all the excuses commonly employed, the unrest that follows great wars, and so forth, are all of them the merest shams. What is the cause of this disaster? Pretending all things are not what they are, and that the consequences of acts will not be what every man who is honest with his own mind knows they must be. Who has been guilty of inducing the nation to adopt this policy of pretence? In the first degree, the Liberal Party and the Liberal leaders. In the second, the present government. The last thing we want to do at the present time is to indulge in political recrimination, but if this question is asked, as it must be there can only be one answer—that which we have given. The Liberals, when they became the dominant party upon the Irish vote, introduced a Home Rule Bill which was founded on the pretences that Ireland was a homogeneous country; that there was no need to give separate treatment to Ulster or a portion of Ulster; and that the loyal and Protestant Ulster would not resist being expelled from the United Kingdom. These pretences were not only repeated in the House of Commons, but in the House of Lords. When the Liberal Government were warned that would be the consequences of the policy, that Ireland was a homogeneous nation and insisting that North-East Ulster would not resist, they pretended to believe that no such consequences would or could follow. But that was not all. During the eighteen months that preceded the final passing of the Home Rule Bill through the Commons and the Lords, the Liberal Government, in the first eighteen months of the war, Mr. Birrell, Mr. Balfour, and Mr. Asquith, pretended that there was no harm in allowing a body of men, to exist who were determined to harm the independence of Ireland, and to blow to bits the British Empire, the arch-enemy—that is, the English nation.

A DANGEROUS TIGER CUB

In a word, a dangerous tiger cub was growing in strength and ferocity in Ireland, but the government insisted upon pretending that by calling it a harmless, domestic cat of nice nature at bottom, if of somewhat wild habits, it could be completely tamed. If only you treated it kindly and fed it plenty of cream, it would love you not merely till the cream gave out, but to eternity.

The consequences were what all persons whose minds were not clouded by the cant of party politics and Parliamentary convention knew they must be—the rebellion of 1916. Whilst the rebels were actually massacring our soldiers in the streets and regarding the wearing of khaki as equivalent to a sentence of death to be inflicted by the Irish Republicans, the pretence that the tiger was "only a pussy-cat" was temporarily abandoned. As soon, however, as it was possible after the actual firing and burning had ceased, the Liberals returned to the sweet little pussy pretence, and the Prime Minister himself went over to inaugurate the reinstatement of the policy of pretence. "Ourselves and our country are not the only ones in that excellent policy," said the tiger will again become a harmless, domestic animal." That was the motto. It was accepted by the first Coalition, and when the second Coalition came into office under another Liberal Prime Minister, it was taken up apparently in full vigour. Irish Secretaries with Home Rule tendencies and Birrellite principles were appointed, and every effort was made to maintain the pretence that only a few Irish extremists were guilty of independence, or that the Germans should win, or again, were actually encouraging the submarine campaign not merely with information, but in certain of the creeks and inlets of the Irish coast with supplies of oil, and even food.

Then came, in 1918, the attempt to apply to Ireland the obligation of service in defence of the United Kingdom which had been applied in England and Scotland, and responded to with such gallantry and devotion in Ireland not only did individuals resist and reject this necessary sacrifice, but the Irish Roman Catholic Church, the Sinn Féiners, and the Nationalists took up a position of resistance which was certainly formidable in fact, if not technically in law. The Government, however, once again pretended, like the optimistic Irish landlord in the story that it all meant nothing. The supporters of Germany were only a blackguard in the shambles. The grim hostility of the church, and the raising at its instigation of a huge sum of money to resist conscription, were only due to "a few excitable ultramontane ecclesiastics." Ireland was not hostile at heart, and so nothing was done, and once more pretence carried the day.

DESPERATE CHARACTERS

Then came the Armistice and Peace. This apparently was thought to be a good opportunity for the adoption of a new and greatly improved pretence that the Sinn Féiners and the Nationalist politicians did not want something which we could not give them—that is, (1) the power govern and possess those parts of Ireland in which there was a loyalist and anti-Home Rule majority, and (2) the power to set up a Government not only independent in home affairs, but able to use the great assets of the Irish harbours in alliance with any foreign Power which in the future might be willing to levy war upon Great Britain and so procure for Ireland that revenge which is the artless and engaging manner peculiar to her she proclaims she will come to obtain. Accordingly, we let out of prison a very considerable number of "desperate characters," and employed a police-court phrase, who had been taken there in punishment for the parts they had taken in the rebellion of 1916—generally of a highly sanguinary and highly criminal nature. Thus began a glorious new pretence, which must have been peculiarly delightful to the Liberal Party, and apparently to some of the new type of Sinn Féin Unionists. As a rule rebels are not let out of prison except with a promise that they will not again engage in treasonable practices. When we found, however, that the Sinn Féiners would not look at any condition of this kind, we at once pretended that it would be quite safe to let them out without any promise.

Accordingly we did so, pretending, no doubt, that though we would not give a promise, they would never be so ungrateful as to begin once more to harm us. They began at once, and we had most respectfully and reluctantly to re-imprison them. Then was introduced the national pastime of hunger-striking. This may be described as a game of double pretence. Scores of Irish prisoners presented themselves as going to starve themselves to death if we did not yield, while we pretended to think that they would starve themselves up to a certain point and then let them out they would have a lesson which they would remember. Of course, nothing of the kind took place. The Irish prisoners found that their pretence worked, and that they would not have to starve themselves to death. We found that our pretence that the punishment would be preventive was an illusion. The result was chaos. When these pretences had to be given up, like all other pretences, they became an extra grievance. Because the Lord Mayor of Cork and another person went too far in trusting to us and meant to take all the advantage which a state of war would give them. After this notice if you kill us, or destroy our house, and so forth, it is no longer of our business, but of yours. If we kill you, burn down your police barracks, whether with people inside or not, it is no longer of our business, but of yours. If we break up your railways, and destroy government property generally, we are merely exercising the legitimate rights of military combatants. What was our answer? Instead of proclaiming martial law at once, we took no notice of this declaration of war and of so-called acts of war done under it, but pretended that they were not taking place. We went further. We pretended that there was no rebellion, and did not claim the usual right to deal summarily with traitors caught red-handed. We merely told our soldiers and policemen that we were sorry, very sorry to say that it had

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

Royal Yeast has been the standard yeast in Canada for over 50 years, and it is a well known fact that Royal Yeast possesses a greater amount of nourishment than that made with any other.

WAR DECLARATION

And now comes the greatest pretence of all—the pretence of a one-sided war. Though they might be ambushed by day and night from behind hedge-rows or shot at from cronies and private houses, they must not do what every one does in war—shoot back or destroy the buildings from which they are accustomed to be harassed and murdered. It was all very well to shoot the people who sniped you out of houses in Flanders or Palestine or on any of the other fronts, but you must not do it in Ireland. To do so would violate the necessary pretence that there was no war. Further, we had to tell our soldiers that though they knew who were directing the forces of murder against them and though the persons in question were walking about in contemptuous ease, we could make no arrests because we could not obtain evidence to secure conviction. NATIONALS THE RESULT The result was the rapinials which all sensible men most deeply regret. That rapinials have caused the death of innocent people we do not deny, but that has been a very rare occurrence. Mr. Asquith's words to the case was the purest artifice, and comparable with the death of some poor, defenceless man, by a stray shell falling in the field in which he happened to be ploughing. However, we need not argue this point, for we condemn rapinials. The authorized rapinials are bound up as a disastrous offence under discipline. Clearly, there would have been no need for rapinials if the Government had not dragged themselves with the political canine of pretence. They would have done the hitting-back and have given no excuse for the rapinials to take the law into their own hands.

MAYOR SUSPENDS POLICE AT NORTH BAY

Mayor Ferguson, of North Bay, on May 4 suspended the entire police force with the exception of one officer. The notice of suspension, which was handed in writing to the officers by the Mayor personally, state simply that the recipient is suspended hereby, pending the action of the Council Committee and the whole Town Council. His Worship has also instructed the Chief of Police to take over the duties of Chief of Police and see to the patrolling of the town. Beyond stating that he accuses the Police Department of general inefficiency and has several specific charges to lay against the officers, the Mayor has made no explanation.

RIDES 1,000 MILES TO BECOME CANADIAN

Charles S. Barton, 35 years old, of Des Moines, Ia., dressed in the full regalia of a western cowboy and riding a broncho pony was rejected by customs officials at Windsor last week, because he had not sufficient money to pay duty on his horse and comply with Dominion immigration regulations. Barton had ridden from Omaha, approximately 1,000 miles, to fulfil his ambition to become a herder of sheep or cattle on a Canadian ranch, the journey made in easy stages, taking a full month. He will remain in Detroit until he can make sufficient money to become a Canadian.

GERMANS HAVE ACCEPTED WITH NO RESERVATION

Are Ready To Carry Out, Without Any Conditions, Terms of Allied Ultimatum.

London, May 1.—The text of the German reply, as delivered to the prime minister by Dr. St. Hamar, ambassador to Great Britain, began as follows:

"Mr. Prime Minister: In accordance with instructions just received, I am commanded by my government, in accordance with the decision of the Reichstag and with reference to the resolutions of the allied powers of May 5, 1921, in the name of the German government to declare the following:

"The German government is fully resolved, first, to carry out without reserve or conditions, its obligations as defined by the reparations commission.

"Second, to accept and carry out without reserve or conditions the guarantees in respect of these obligations prescribed by the reparations commission.

"Third, to carry out without reserve or delay the measures of military, naval and aerial disarmament, transmitted to the German government by the allied powers in their note of January, 1921, those overdue to be completed at once and the remainder by the prescribed date.

"Fourth, to carry out without reserve or delay the trial of war criminals and to execute the other unfulfilled portions of the treaty referred to in the first paragraph of the note of the allied governments of May 5, 1921, ask the allied powers to take note immediately of this declaration.

(Signed) "ST. HAMAR." Mr. Lloyd George, in giving the terms of the reply to the commons, said: "This is complete acceptance of every demand."

HIDDEN MUSIC

We speak of the harmonies of nature and we read of the music of stars having sung together; but such phrases, beautiful and picturesque as they are, are usually valued chiefly as a poetical form of expression. Science, however, is acting as interpreter. Certain birds, naturalists tell us, have well-defined musical themes, and their trills and cadences can be represented on the staff like other tunes. It is these birds, however, why not other birds also, although the human ear may catch but a few? John Burroughs was a great lover of bird-song. With few exceptions, however, he found that each songster had but a limited number of phrases or passages; whether they were songs of joy or signals to their mates he could not learn.

In a most interesting article in the Atlantic Monthly, Alida Chanler discusses the "Unexplored Harmonies" of nature. She tells of a Mexican bird of the thrush family whose throat "fairly quivered with notes inaudible to my ears. Its small body vibrates to notes we cannot catch at all. And if this is true of sound, it is even more true of light. Science, she tells us, has lately found a new kind of periscope to turn the corner from light to sound. It is called the "oscillating aural" wireless receiver, and it opens up to the human ear sounds that until now have been wholly inaudible. As sweet as flutes, as variable as Hawaiian guitars. These observations are not high pitched for the unaided ear to detect, but the aural machine can clearly distinguish. By means of this rarely sensitive contrivance, which may be connected with the telephone, the listener is enabled to hear a thousand unimagined musical surprises in nature. It reveals in its tone vibrations a score of octaves! Such a range, unattainable by any instrument, no musician could ever have dreamed of. Yet when we consider that by means of the radio, a conversation between Europe and America can be "listened in" upon Edison, we cease to marvel at the possibilities of the voices of nature being audible. This wonderful instrument is described as being capable of being tuned or so adjusted as

SUFFERED DAY AND NIGHT

The Tortures of Dyspepsia Relieved By "Fruit-a-lives"

LITTLE BOB D'ON, C. B.

"I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation for years. I had pain after eating, belching gas, constant headaches and did not sleep well at night. Finally, a friend told me to try 'Fruit-a-lives'." In a week, the Constipation was corrected and soon I was free of pain, headaches, and that miserable feeling that accompanies Dyspepsia. I continued to take this splendid fruit medicine and now I am well, strong and vigorous." ROBERT NEWTON. 80c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial 50c. to bring melody out of what may with less care and intention seem to be but absolute confusion. The minds of the description in Greek mythology of the Chamber of Harmonious Sounds, hung midway between heaven and earth and which caught all the sounds of the world and sent them aloft in musical concord.

With the development of the new contrivance which science has provided, we may expect that the sounds of nature will become more clearly translatable—the soft and low cadences of the summer wind, no less than the music of Niagara; the song of the brook or the murmuring sounds of a great city heard at a distance like the waves of a vast orchestra. Miss Chanler seems to picture just such an enjoyment to be derived from this new device. "We are patient," she writes, "we may yet hear the morning stars singing together, or catch a whisper of moonbeams flitting down."

DUNLOP

Means BIG Mileage

Dunlop Cord and Fabric Tires Are Now Made by the Same Unbeatable Process

Here's What Private Car Owners Say:

"The set of Dunlop Cord Tires, 3 1/2 x 3 1/2 Traction and two Ribbed—have given entire satisfaction. I have run them continuously on my Cadillac car, and have taken a trip from Winnipeg to Toronto and return, and they have now covered in the neighbourhood of 20,000 miles and are still in good shape."—A. C. Turner, Winnipeg, Man.

"Would say I have been using Dunlop Tires on my car for some time. I have run on National and Flat Gasoline cars, and have taken a trip from Winnipeg to Toronto and return, and they have now covered in the neighbourhood of 20,000 miles and are still in good shape."—M. N. Leung, Saskatoon, Sask.

"I may say that I have had four Dunlop Cord Tires on my car, which have never let me down. I have run on National and Flat Gasoline cars, and have taken a trip from Winnipeg to Toronto and return, and they have now covered in the neighbourhood of 20,000 miles and are still in good shape."—A. J. Barr, Ottawa, Ont.

Dunlop Tires, Both Cord and Fabric Construction, are Giving Phenomenal Results.

Big Tire Mileage is here to stay. Just as we predicted in 1912 that the Anti-Skid Tire would become standard, so we now predict that Big Tire Mileage will be among the things every motorist will consistently expect from now on.

The tire manufacturer who has to apologize for "short life" in his product will be automatically eliminated. Cord Tire construction made possible the coming of a tire that refuses to quit until many thousands of miles have been clicked off. The Cord Tire is now universally accepted as the master choice.

And Dunlop Cord Tire is now the most popular. "Dunlop" is at top form, but don't forget that while we are turning out Cord Tires — "Traction" or "Ribbed" — which seem almost uncanny in their ruggedness, that a great number of motorists still use Fabric Tires. These motorists wanted more mileage than Fabric Tires were usually expected to give. That set us thinking. We wondered why certain Cord Tire principles could not be applied to Fabric Tires.

We experimented and were amazed at the find. It was that we could at one sweep add 20% more mileage to Dunlop Fabric Tires and make them last longer than Fabric Tires were ever known to last. Result: Dunlop "Cord"-built Fabric Tires are giving some other makes of Cord Tires a run for their money at, of course, much lower first costs.

Dunlop Cord Tires are outstanding any other Cord Tire made, no matter at what price the tire sells. The stories told here prove all we claim. We have hundreds more like them. Note the remarkable distances covered and the splendid average for all parts of Canada on all makes of cars.

Here's What Truck Owners Say:

"My first set of Dunlop Traction Cord Tires, size 3 1/2 x 4 1/2, bought in June, 1918, have been used on my 1918 Buick truck, and have run 18,000 miles. They are still in good condition, and have given me a good service. I have taken a trip from Winnipeg to Toronto and return, and they have now covered in the neighbourhood of 20,000 miles and are still in good shape."—J. B. Forbes, the Motorist, Hamilton, Ont.

"A 31 x 4 1/2, Dunlop Traction Cord Fabric Tire, which I have equipped one of my Ford delivery trucks, used for general cargo work, is now completing its third consecutive season and has never let me down. During this time it has made many hard trips, including trips to the north, and has run 20,000 miles. It is still in good condition, and has given me a good service. I have taken a trip from Winnipeg to Toronto and return, and they have now covered in the neighbourhood of 20,000 miles and are still in good shape."—H. Clark, Montreal, Que.

"The tire which I brought back to be tested on the back wheels of my Buick truck for the first 1,000 miles, was not changed for nine months, and during that time needed practically no air, which speaks well for your tires. I cannot speak too highly of Dunlop Tires for the delivery business. We deliver about fifty miles a day, and keep our tires in good condition. The Independent Messenger, Perkel and Co., delivery Co., Toronto, Ont.

"We are today sending you a 32 x 3 1/2 Dunlop Ribbed Cord Tire that we have just taken off a Dodge Touring car, having run over 22,500 miles, according to the odometer. The tire is still in good condition, and has given us a good service. I have taken a trip from Winnipeg to Toronto and return, and they have now covered in the neighbourhood of 20,000 miles and are still in good shape."—H. Clark, Montreal, Que.

"I have been using Dunlop Cord Tires for the last few years, and have run about twenty-seven Dunlop 32 x 3 1/2 and 34 x 3 1/2 tires on my Cadillac car in my, and country livery business. I have run about 20,000 miles on them, and they are still running and have given 20,000 miles, and have given me a good service. Here's What Dealers Say:

"During the past season we have used Dunlop Cord and Fabric Tires on all our cars. Our customers have been extremely satisfied. There have been no complaints from any source. On the whole, our customers frequently remarked on the fine results and big mileage obtained from Dunlop Tires. We are expecting to use your make of tires on a much greater scale during the coming season."—The Motor Car Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"We have found the Dunlop Cord tire giving wonderful service, and running up to 20,000 miles. It is a real find, and is subject to service up and hard work. It is a real find, and is subject to service up and hard work. It is a real find, and is subject to service up and hard work."—R. R. McMorris, Victoria, B.C.

"We can conscientiously recommend Dunlop Traction Tires to all our customers, as both we and they honestly believe that no other tire on the market is giving like service and mileage. Advertisements asked for during the past eighteen months have been practically nil, while the mileage has been exceptionally high for this part of the country. We have tried them out against opposition makes, and the result has always been in favor of Dunlop. Hargreave's Motors, Limited, Mississauga City, Ont.

GETTING READY FOR THE BIG FAIR

Agricultural Society Directors Are Getting 'Right Up On Their Toes to Put It Over Right.

The Directors met Saturday evening at the secretary's office and weighed in a few more links into the chain of preparations necessary to make the approaching Fair a worthy successor of the fine Fairs held here in recent years. The dates are July 15, 19, 20.

There were present at this meeting, President Bjorkland, in the chair; Secretary J. E. Welton, Dr. F. A. McEwan, J. F. Day, E. S. Hogg, L. Egelkrant, F. W. Galbraith, C. C. Gamble, J. Cole, J. A. McChesnon, H. Wilson, H. G. Stone, J. Cruickshank, A. S. Blair, L. E. Brown, J. Malcolm, D. S. Smith, L. A. Parry, J. J. Gaetz, Mrs. J. J. Gaetz.

The committee on dining hall and refreshment stand privileges reported that the Presbyterian Church ladies were willing to take charge of the entire proposition, dining hall, refreshment booths and grand stand. Mrs. Bannerman was present, and urged to have the grand stand privilege included. Mr. Gamble favored giving the privileges to one organization, and Mr. Galbraith was not adverse in view of the motion of Directors Hogg and Brown, the request of the Presbyterian ladies was granted, and the entire proposition will be taken on a 50-50 basis, after paying for supplies.

The committee on special prizes reported success in their canvass and most equal to last year. The sum of $900.00 had been pledged to this year. The Royal Bank offered two medals. The Secretary and J. F. Day will communicate with the Bank in regard to these.

Premier Stewart wrote accepting the invitation to open the Fair officially on July 19, if he is in the province at that time.

The Harness Horse Association wrote suggesting changes in charges for race entry regulations. Mrs. The Canadian Aryshire Breeders' Association suggested name of official judge. The Society will use government judges throughout.

I.O.D.E. CELEBRATION OF VICTORIA DAY

About 700 scholars of city and other schools assembled in the Methodist church on Monday afternoon for the I.O.D.E. presentation ceremonies. The parade from the schools was orderly and well managed. Mayor Collison occupied the chair. Mrs. Greff, Regent of the I.O.D.E., presented the medals for the essay competitions and brief, bright addresses were given by Rev. A. C. Collier, W. B. Payne and Inspector Gibson, and several patriotic songs were sung. The gathering was an inspiring tribute to the faithful work of the I.O.D.E. and its zeal for the cultivation of patriotic sentiment.

PENHOLD NOTES

At the citizens' meeting, held last Monday, the date for the Penhold Sports Day was set for June 22nd. Further particulars will be announced later.

Last Friday Penhold had the opportunity of enjoying the prettiest play that has ever been presented here, and all those who were present were most delighted with the entertainment. The cantata, "A Dream of Fairland," which was put on by the school children under the direction of Miss Wright and Miss Spurr, was a most charming little story play, and the children, led by Miss Spurr, did their parts beautifully. Their actions and dancing were most graceful, and their words and song were well and clearly spoken and very tuneful.

No special mention can be made of anyone, as all did so well, taking a delight in their work. The costumes and stage decorations were most tasteful and charming. The music supplied by Mrs. J. V. Hogg and Mrs. Parsons was much enjoyed and was very helpful to the child actors. Too much praise cannot be given to those who had put so much energy and time and trouble into training the children, and the children themselves must be congratulated on their success. Brig-Gen. McDonald, of Calgary, gave a very interesting and instructive address on the present work and objects of the Red Cross, and after the concert was over many present were enrolled in the Red Cross Society. The proceeds of the concert will go towards the Sick Children Fund of the Junior Red Cross.

Mrs. Spurr, of Lacombe, spent last week end with her daughter.

The Women's Institute meets tomorrow, May 25th, in the hall. Health topics will be discussed after the paper given by Mrs. G. Van Wart. Business meeting 2:30. Open meeting 3 o'clock. All welcome.

Frost, of Red Deer, who was a prisoner of war in Germany for 3 1/2 years, will tell the thrilling story of his life overseas in the Presbyterian church, Penhold, on Thursday night, May 26th. Mr. Frost also recites pieces which were composed by his fellow prisoners. Mr. Muir, of Red Deer, a Scotch soloist, will render several songs during the evening.
